

Foundation - Target - Reach

List 10 colleges to which you would like to apply. Place them in the appropriate groups.

Foundation Schools: These are schools at which you have a very good chance of being accepted, or know that you have met the assured admissions requirements.

1.

2.

3.

Target Schools: These are schools at which you have a decent chance of being accepted. You may have assured admissions to these schools and you may be just outside of the requirements, but with a strong essay or letter of recommendation, you have a good chance.

4.

5.

6.

Reach Schools: These are schools at which you have a low chance of being accepted. Reach schools are different for everyone, so set your sights high and put in your best effort. You never know what might happen!

7.

8.

9.

Wildcard School: This is an extra school that you want to apply to, but it didn't fit into one of the categories above.

10.

